Chairman Camp Announces Republican Membership on Ways & Means Subcommittees for 113th Congress

Washington, DC- Today, Ways and Means Committee Chairman Dave Camp (R-MI) announced the Republican members of the subcommittees for the 113th Congress. The announcement comes a day after the Republican Steering Committee named the Committee's final Republican Member, Congressman Jim Renacci (R-OH).

"I congratulate the new and returning Members of each of the subcommittees," said Camp. "The Committee faces a very busy Congress as we work to make our economy stronger and healthier so families can find good-paying jobs and afford to save and invest for the future. Establishing the membership for these subcommittees is an important step forward as we pursue an aggressive legislative agenda to make the tax code simpler and fairer; move forward on new opportunities in the global marketplace while holding our trading partners accountable; conduct rigorous oversight – especially as the Administration struggles to implement ObamaCare; and, take action to protect, preserve and prolong the life of our entitlement programs."

The respective Chairs of the subcommittees were previously announced (<http://waysandmeans.house.gov/news/documentsingle.aspx?DocumentID=316841>) on January 15, 2013.
