

Final Research Plan: Primary Care Screening for Depression in Adults

The U.S. Preventive Services Task Force posted today a final research plan on primary care screening for depression in adults. The draft research plan for this topic was posted for public comment from March 27 to April 23, 2014. The Task Force reviewed all of the comments that were submitted and took them into consideration as it finalized the research plan. To view the final research plan, please go to <http://www.uspreventiveservicestaskforce.org/uspstf14/depradult/depradultfinalresplan.htm>.